

CANDLER'S CHICKENS RECOVERED BY POLICE

Two Valuable Necklaces Are Stolen From Home on East North Avenue.

The theft and recovery by the police of eighteen chickens stolen from Mrs. G. Candler, Jr., and the looting of two residences in Oakhurst were reported to police yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Charles Boone, who lives on Winter street, spent Monday night in Atlanta with his family and discovered the robbery of his home upon his return Tuesday.

The contents of bureau drawers and trunks had been emptied into the middle of the floor and the dining room was in a state of disorder.

Burglars also broke into the residence of R. L. Wallace, on Park avenue, and stole a suit of clothes and a pistol.

A number of burglaries in Atlanta homes were also reported. A. H. Smith, of 488 Euclid avenue, told the police that a pickpocket had stolen a gold watch while he was riding home on a street car.

Mrs. W. J. Yarbrough, of 257 East North avenue, said that while she was using the telephone in her home that a thief had entered her home and stolen two valuable necklaces.

C. C. Clayton, an employee of the Central car company, reported that his residence at 129 Simpson street, had been burglarized and a suit of men's clothes, a pair of tan shoes, a blue and leather suit case, and a blue and leather suitcase stolen.

Mrs. L. W. Griffin, of 62 Broad street, reported that a thief had entered her home and stolen a cash and a check for $1.

The arrest of two drunks and the activities of the "Night Watch" of the police, which went on duty for its first time Monday night at 9 o'clock, were also reported.

Lacy Hammond, a negro giving his address as 29 Miller street, was arrested at Ponce de Leon hall by the Metropolitan Police. Hammond and Hornsby had a sack holding nine chickens.

It was later learned that the chickens had been stolen from the residence of C. Candler, Jr., on Moreland avenue, and also implicated Charles Lester, a negro living at 324 1/2 Avenue.

At Lester's house nine more chickens were found, already picked and on cold storage. Lester and chickens were brought to police station.

Candler, not wishing to eat as many as eighteen chickens, gave a number of them to the officers.

Officers Palmer and Allen and Sergeant Ballard, who are in charge of the new patrol, secured the confession.

HIS XMAS CELEBRATION INTERRUPTED BY POLICE

His hat, crowned with mistletoe and holly leaves, and a big 44-caliber pistol in his hand, which he fired at random, in celebration of the approaching Christmas, Joe Wilson, a negro youth of Savannah, Ga., was arrested in the street last night by Bufile officers Douglass and Shumate.

Joe Wilson, who is 20 years of age, was thought, but his Christmas was at the expense of a number of other downtown residents, who failed to enjoy the "Christmas" shooting as much as the misfitful Joe.

It is said that some members of the council favor adding $100,000 to the project for improvement of the Lakewood property. The city has agreed to loan $75,000 to the county $25,000 and the merchants of the city $75,000.

Mayor Woodward has declared his approval of the Lakewood fair project, and has made the announcement that he will have the city's endorsement of the project.

Members of council who favor both the bond issue and the expenditure of $25,000 for fair purposes, believe that the best thing for the city to do is to let the current revenues of the city take care of the fair project.

Ordinance Is Ready.
City Attorney James L. Mayson has prepared the bond ordinance for council action. The ordinance provides for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of improving the Lakewood property.

on real estate and taxable property amounted to $181,746,323, upon which returns were made.

The borrowing capacity of the city amounts to $400,000, regardless of the outstanding debt.

As an illustration of the fact that there is still a depression among the financial circles of the world, the construction department on Monday opened bids for stone, sand and cement in quantities demanded by the city to carry out sewer work and bought $150,000 material which would have cost the city $100,000 six or eight months ago.

In other words, the city can now buy material for much less than ever before. Contractors say that the city must be given the contract to one firm or corporation to furnish the entire amount, the cost would be considerably less.

In addition to the low cost of material there are hundreds of men idle in the city, and by putting them to work it will turn into the channels of trade immense sums which will almost completely relieve the situation in Atlanta and put all the unemployed at work.

the prospect of buying an interest in a quarry.

Authorities of Lithonia are working on the theory that Walker was murdered. They have thus far failed to uncover any evidence, except the footprints, to aid them in the search for the murderer.

Walker comes of a prominent family and was himself prominent in Atlanta and throughout the state. He was a railroad civil engineer before he went to work in the stone quarries.

His father and mother live at Union Grove. He has two brothers who live in other parts. He has a married sister also living at Union Grove.

Until recently his uncle, George W. Walker, lived in Atlanta at the Georgia Hotel and he is also well known in the city. He has since moved to another place.

No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

Gay and Unique Costumes Worn at Masquerade Ball

Carnival spirit reigned supreme at the masquerade ball given by the different dancing clubs at the Auditorium-Armory last night. The attendance was very large and many gay and unique costumes were worn.

The throwing of gay colored paper streamers and confetti added to the merriment of the evening. A real Santa Claus distributed gifts among the dancers.

The dancing was preceded by a grand march in which all the dancers took part, and by other elaborate exercises, all of which were highly pleasing and enjoyable.

The dancing lasted until well after midnight and there was never a dull moment.

The occasion marked the beginning of the holiday festivities and was the largest social event of the week. The presence of many visitors in the city and the return of many of the younger students from other colleges and schools added to the interest.

Just as the shades of the night rush hour when thousands of pedestrians were suddenly startled by a terrific series of explosions and a big flash of sky-rockets and Roman candles. The entire stand was up in flames of glory that must have satisfied the heart of every youngster who saw it.

The fire department made a quick response and the fire was soon extinguished.

The accident seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by everyone except, perhaps, the owner of the stand. Many of his wares that did not explode

Dinner-Dance.

The informal dinner-dance at the Capital City club last evening was enjoyed by a large number of guests.

Dancing Party.

Miss Natalie Stokes was the honor guest at a dancing party last evening given by Mrs. Samuel Weyman at her home on Fourteenth street. The Christmas spirit was suggested in the bright holiday decorations throughout the house.

Dancing was in the garage, where the walls and furnishings are in tones of brown. A wood fire burned brightly in the big open fireplace, and wreaths of holly and poinsettia blossoms added to the attractiveness of the room.

Miss Stokes wore a pretty gown of white net.

Misses assisted Mrs. Weyman in entertaining.

The guests included the school girls and boys.

FLOWERS

What brings more cheer and happiness in the home Christmas morning than a beautiful blooming plant or a handsome vase of cut flowers? There is nothing that can take their place. They fulfill every desire.

Come in to our flower show, pick out a few and send them. They are not expensive and they are grown at our own greenhouses especially for you.

Come and see our display and look around. You are welcome whether you buy or not, and remember, we will be open all this week until 10:30 p. m.

On Eve of New Year

With the coming of the New Year it is still more evident that the trend of musical happenings is taking an upward curve. This applies not alone to events of local public interest, but also to all other domains of interpretative music, with special reference perhaps to sound production in its various forms. The general revival of business and finance, which now is assuredly well started, has no doubt much to do with the increased output. It is evident that the Columbia Graphophone company for one intends to lose no trick in the game, judging by the quality and size of its January record list.

Prominent in their current catalog of new offerings is a remarkable specimen of coloratura recording by Bernice Pasquel, namely, Goetz's "Swiss Echo Song," a composition of distinctly French in character, which exhibits the coloratura recording in a manner rarely surpassed by any other modern composition.

In the line of opera, the distinguished American, Marius Clark, W. Clark, contributes the most popular excerpt from the opera range of the operatic music, the "Evening Star" song from "L'Alcazar," which is a splendidly impassioned and wisely sung "active" from Massenet's "Les rosières."

A popular and semi-popular line of music, however, the list shows it of greatest strength. One of the new recordings is the famous "Aloha Oe," or "Farewell Song" of the Hawaiian Islands. It is recorded in extraordinarily effective style by a troupe of native Hawaiian singers who have brought out in every note the real beauty and lasting appeal of the song. Of a similar class in its way is a mixed quartet record of the Carle-Jacobs-Bond song that has recently become so universally popular, "Perfect Day." The arrangement of the song is exceedingly well done and the singing is superb.

Al Jolson, the genial and versatile comedian of the New York Winter Garden, sings his two latest hits and achieves wonders in the recording of Broadway raciness. Mr. Jolson, it is announced, now sings exclusively for the Columbia.

A feature of the list is a promptly issued record of the prize song of the Panama-Pacific exposition song contest conducted by The San Francisco Bulletin. The winning song is aptly named "1915 San Francisco," and is recorded by Campbell and Burr, two of the most popular singers on the Columbia list. The excessive demand for more records of the British war song, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," has resulted in its reappearance twice on the new list of current "hits" appear, and the songs of the dance is catered to in five new double-discs.

No Cotton Compress
Charge at Seaports, Rules Commission

The interstate commerce commission, upon a bill of complaint filed by C. S. Howard, attorney for Inman, Akers & Inman and other cotton dealers, has handed down an opinion prohibiting the Atlantic Coast Line and other railroads from allowing cotton shippers a compress charge for cotton compressed at seaports. The commission held that to allow a charge for the compression of cotton at a seaport, which would be at the terminus of the haul, would be in the nature of a rebate. The ruling, therefore, it is held, does not apply to making allowance for compression at interior points.

Summerville Election.

Lately, on December 22—(Special)—Saturday, January 2, has been set as the date for holding an election by the city of Summerville for choosing a mayor and one councilman from each of the four wards of the city. There will probably be a number in the race for mayor, which promises to be warm.

DAY FATAL SHOT BY BROTHER-IN-LAW

Howard Garrett, Arrested in Atlanta, Declines to Discuss Shooting.

L. D. Day, aged 46, a prosperous farmer, who lives six miles east of Marietta, Ga., was shot and probably fatally wounded, at his home Tuesday afternoon by his brother-in-law, Howard Garrett, aged 35, a railroad man, who was visiting the day home during the Christmas holidays.

The county authorities state that both Day and Garrett were under the influence of whiskey. Garrett carried the 3 o'clock car for Atlanta. Deputy Sheriff G. M. Hicks of Cobb county, trailed Garrett to Atlanta, and last night Garrett was arrested by City Detective Andrews near the home of his brother, W. H. Garrett, at 19 Duane street. He was carried back to Marietta by the deputy sheriff.

He refused to give any statement last night about the shooting, but admitted that he was drunk at the time. Day was removed to the John M. Bull entered his back. Little hope is held for his recovery.
